2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Do Not Waste a Dime on This!By Book ReaderThis is NOT a book! It is more like a triple-spaced term paper written by some student who doesn't know a thing about the subject! If I were a teacher grading it I'd give it a big fat "F" grade! Whoever "wrote" this "book" ought to be embarassed. The author is NO authority to be writing on the subject, save your money and do not buy this thing.2 of 3 people found the following review helpful. This is not a book - it is a sales pitch.By Edward B. BeckhamMy strong advice to anyone is to not purchase this item (can't really be called a "book").Before I had purchased it, I noted that it was described as 113-pages. Not true - it turned out to only include 57 pages of large-font content, with a picture on every other page.

The content was not informative, as it was nothing more than a sales pitch. Save your money.

Matt Anderson and Dennis Farmer are two bankruptcy attorneys. Matt's law practice has been in business since the 1960s and he was still doing many things the old-fashioned way. One day he decided to sit down and analyze his practice and he found he was losing a lot of money. So Matt decided to try several methods to solve the problem and increase his profits but he continually ended up back at Square One. One day Matt was sitting in the local restaurant and he met Dennis Farmer, an attorney he had met at the bankruptcy court. Dennis proceeded to tell Matt how his law firm was literally transformed overnight by the methods he had employed and he was now earning on the average of $515.00 per hour. The book explains in detail exactly how Dennis accomplished this goal. Use these same ideas and methods to do the same for your law firm regardless if you practice in bankruptcy law, corporate law or any other type of practice in between.

After reading this book, I was able to literally transform my current law practice. I added virtual assistants to my staff and immediately increased my hourly rate as well as the profits for the entire law firm. --Jason Kearney, Attorney at Law
I added Chapter 7 bankruptcy services to my law firm practice and utilized 713Training.Com and Bankruptcy Plus as virtual services to draft the petitions. For the past 3 years I have increased the profits to my law firm dramatically. I am just sorry I did implement these methods many years ago. --Roger Weaver, Weaver Law Firm
