If I hadn't looked up the act ...By bigpotatomoths Considering how bare bones a supplement is, you would think they could get the numbering for the sections correct. You would be wrong. One example is in Appendix P (see photo). The numbering is totally off for the entire Uniform Foreign Country Money Judgments Recognition Act, making it inaccurate. "Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b), this [act] applies..." Except subsection b is labeled as subsection 2. If you're looking around for subsection b, c, etc., you should actually be looking for subsections 2,3, etc. This is a small typographical mistake, but a really annoying one. If I hadn't looked up the act online and was just referring to this book, I would scratching my head asking if there was some other section not included in the supplement. Also the text in Appendix O for the UFMJR appears to be outdated. I am not sure when the changes were made, but, for example, section 6 looks completely different on Westlaw. That appendix also references some random section numbers throughout that are nowhere to be found in the supplement (similar to Appendix P).0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. good supplementBy one two threeExcellent book with the others I have on the subject. I recommend the book and the seller.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Customervery useful tool book!
