Sajid K. C. : Islamic views on family life before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Islamic views on family life:

Much more studies and researches are conducted on the family and family life. Muslim family is counted as a safe heaven in the life, especially in modern society which is facing many cultural mal-practices and increasing illicit relationships. The researcher approaches the topic of concepts of family life from Islamic Perspective and its basic theories. According to Islamic Principles and ideas family is the small part of Society which can build a best community by its genuine teachings and special guidance for formation Muslim family. Family will be safe and comfortable for both this world and hereafter by accepting the way, which Islam does present to its community. This research is mainly divided into four chapters, Islamic family, Marriage of a Muslim, Rights and obligations of family members and Inheritance in Islam. It is a common misunderstanding that Islam is not putting forward absolute family concepts. Through this study the researcher proves that, this argument is the sharp variance with the reality and tries to present the goodness and beauty of Muslim family.
