Inside the Minds: Leading Product Liability Lawyers is the most authoritative book ever written on the essentials behind the successful practice of product liability law. This title features Group Chairs and Department Heads of product liability from some of the nations top law firms, who have each contributed chapters akin to objective, experience-related white papers or essays on this particular specialization within the legal field. In an over-arching as well as in-depth presentation of the fundamentals, authors articulate the unspoken rules and the important issues facing any product liability lawyer now, and what will hold true into the future. From examining the fundamental role of the lawyer and the lawyer-client relationship, to evaluating changes in product liability legislation industry-wide and addressing the need for innovation, this book pulls readers through all facets of product liability, from beginning to end. The different niches represented and the various perspectives presented enable readers to get inside great legal minds and gain valuable insights into the industry, as the experts go back to basics in a must-read for anyone interested in product liability, the law and the intersection of the two.
